

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A process for making customized sweetener products available by a product supplier for online customizing sweetener products, online ordering the customized sweetener products, and online purchasing the customized sweetener products through a communications network made accessible to a customer.